Integrated Appeal and Grievance Processes for Integrated D-SNPs with “Exclusively Aligned Enrollment”

By Ryan Stringer and Alena Tourtellotte, Mathematica

Individuals dually eligible for Medicare and Medicaid must navigate separate, and in some cases conflicting, appeal and grievance processes within Medicare and Medicaid. Integrated plans that cover both Medicare and Medicaid benefits are designed to help alleviate this challenge, but historically, even enrollees in integrated plans have had to navigate separate processes when filing appeals or grievances. To address this issue, the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services (CMS) will begin requiring integrated appeal and grievance processes for dually eligible individuals who are enrolled in certain Dual Eligible Special Needs Plans (D-SNPs) in 2021. On April 16, 2019, CMS released a final rule1 that implements provisions of the 2018 Bipartisan Budget Act (BBA) requiring greater D-SNP integration, including integrated plan-level appeal and grievance processes for certain “applicable integrated plans.” This fact sheet is intended to help states with applicable integrated plans understand these new integrated appeal and grievance processes, the types of D-SNPs that are required to use them, and steps that states can take to help ensure effective implementation of the new processes in 2021.

Summary of the Integrated Appeal and Grievance Processes

• Summary of integrated processes. In the existing Medicare and Medicaid appeal and grievance processes, dually eligible individuals must follow separate Medicare and Medicaid appeal and grievance pathways that differ in key respects. The new processes offer integrated plan-level appeal and grievance pathways for all Medicare and Medicaid benefits, resolve misalignments between Medicare and Medicaid plan-level processes, and result in simpler, more straightforward experiences for enrollees, states, and plans. In addition, states may implement requirements through their State Medicaid Agency Contracts (SMAC) that are more protective for enrollees than those described in regulation. The final rule does not modify post-plan level Medicare and Medicaid appeal processes.

• Applicable integrated plans. The integrated appeal and grievance processes apply only to Highly Integrated Dual Eligible Special Needs Plans (HIDE SNPs) and Fully Integrated Dual Eligible Special Needs Plans (FIDE SNPs) with exclusively aligned enrollment. Exclusively aligned enrollment occurs when the state contract limits enrollment in the HIDE SNP or FIDE SNP to full-benefit dually eligible individuals who receive their Medicaid benefits from the HIDE SNP or FIDE SNP, or from an affiliated Medicaid managed care plan offered by the same parent company as the HIDE SNP or FIDE SNP. CMS will designate applicable integrated plans at the plan benefit package level.

• Key dates. Applicable integrated plans must have integrated appeal and grievances processes in effect starting January 1, 2021. The SMACs submitted on July 6, 2020 by D-SNPs that are applicable integrated plans must include a provision requiring use of integrated appeal and grievance processes. See page 6 of this fact sheet for sample contract language.

Applicable Integrated Plans

The new integrated appeal and grievance processes for 2021 apply to D-SNPs that qualify as HIDE SNPs and FIDE SNPs with exclusively aligned enrollment. Exclusively aligned enrollment occurs when state policy limits the D-SNP’s membership such that every enrollee in the D-SNP receives their Medicaid benefits from the D-SNP, or from an affiliated Medicaid managed care plan offered by the same parent company. These plans are referred to as “applicable integrated plans” in the final rule released by CMS in April 2019. To qualify as a HIDE SNP or FIDE SNP, a D-SNP must provide full-benefit dually eligible individuals with capitated Medicaid benefits including coverage for behavioral health services and/or long-term services and supports (LTSS).

CMS has released guidance to help states and managed care plans understand the requirements for HIDE SNPs and FIDE SNPs and distinguish between the two. Specifically, a D-SNP may qualify as a HIDE SNP if it covers, consistent with state policy, LTSS and/or Medicaid behavioral health services, under a state contract either directly with the legal entity providing the D-SNP, with the parent organization of the D-SNP, or with a subsidiary owned and controlled by the parent organization of the D-SNP. A D-SNP may qualify as a FIDE SNP if the same legal entity providing the D-SNP covers institutional and community-based LTSS under a capitated contract with the state. Additionally, as part of their LTSS coverage, FIDE SNPs must include coverage of Medicaid nursing facility services of at least 180 days during the plan year. FIDE SNPs are not required to cover behavioral health services in cases where the state decides to carve out behavioral health services from the capitated rate.

All other types of Medicare Advantage (MA) plans, including HIDE SNPs and FIDE SNPs without exclusively aligned enrollment, will continue to use existing Medicare appeal and grievance processes for Medicare benefits. The existing processes are illustrated in an ICRC resource and are required under 42 CFR Part 438 Subpart F and 42 CFR Part 422 Subparts M and N.

Integrated Appeal and Grievance Processes

Summary of the Integrated Appeal Process

The existing Medicare and Medicaid appeal processes require dually eligible individuals to navigate separate appeal pathways, depending on whether the benefit in question is covered by Medicare, Medicaid, or both. For example, even if an individual is enrolled in Medicare and Medicaid plans operated by the same parent company, these processes differ in certain respects, such as the timeframes in which a plan must make a decision about an enrollee’s grievance.
The integrated appeal process resolves these misalignments by creating a single appeal pathway at the plan level for all Medicare (other than Medicare Part D) and Medicaid benefits for enrollees in applicable integrated plans. The process begins when an individual requests coverage for a particular service or benefit from their plan. Regardless of whether the service or benefit would typically be covered by Medicare, Medicaid, or both, the plan must make a decision about the request as expeditiously as the enrollee’s health condition requires, but no longer than 14 days for a standard request and within 72 hours for an expedited request. If the plan denies the request, or if it reduces, suspends, or terminates a previously authorized benefit, the enrollee may file an appeal with the plan. The plan has 30 days to make a decision about the appeal if the enrollee uses the standard appeal process and 72 hours to make a decision if the enrollee uses the expedited appeal process. As in the Medicaid appeal process, the integrated appeal process allows individuals to continue their benefits subject to an appeal if they meet certain requirements. This continuation of benefits is available for all ongoing services, including those covered by Medicare. The integrated appeal process does not modify any post-plan appeal processes, including Medicare Independent Review Entity decisions and Medicaid state fair hearings.

Summary of the Integrated Grievance Process

Like the integrated appeal process, the integrated grievance process offers individuals a single pathway to file a grievance with their plan, regardless of whether the grievance involves the delivery of a Medicare or a Medicaid benefit. An individual may file a grievance verbally or in writing at any time with their plan. The plan must respond to a standard grievance within 30 days and to an expedited grievance within 24 hours.

Potential Benefits of the Integrated Appeal and Grievance Processes

The integrated processes may offer states, enrollees, and applicable integrated plans various benefits, including:

- State flexibilities. States may implement timeframe or notice requirements that are more protective for enrollees than those included in the integrated process regulations, as long as the state-specific requirements are consistent with federal Medicaid regulations.

- Streamlined experiences for dually eligible individuals. Because the integrated appeal and grievance processes offer single pathways for all Medicare and Medicaid benefits, dually eligible individuals will no longer need to determine whether to use the Medicare pathway, the Medicaid pathway, or both. Additionally, the integrated processes strengthen enrollee protections by adopting either the Medicare or Medicaid standard that is more protective of enrollees. For example, as under Medicaid managed care rules, the integrated processes allow an enrollee to file a grievance at any time and to continue receiving denied, reduced, or suspended benefits during an appeal.
• Administrative efficiencies for plans. Applicable integrated plans are likely to benefit from administrative efficiencies resulting from the integrated appeal and grievance pathways because they will no longer have to simultaneously implement two separate processes to comply with differing Medicare and Medicaid appeal and grievance requirements. For instance, if an item or service is fully covered under the Medicaid benefits offered by the plan, the plan will never have to send a notice denying Medicare coverage.

State Roles in Implementing Integrated Appeal and Grievance Processes

States that contract with applicable integrated plans should consider taking the following steps to ensure that those plans effectively implement the new integrated appeal and grievance processes in 2021:

• Contract updates. All D-SNPs must have contracts with state Medicaid agencies, referred to as the SMAC or “MIPPA contract.” States will need to update their SMACs to require applicable integrated plans to use the integrated appeal and grievance processes starting January 1, 2021. Specifically, SMACs should require plans to use the integrated appeal and grievance processes described at 42 CFR 422.629 through 422.634, as well as conforming Medicaid managed care rules at 42 CFR 438.210, 438.400, and 438.402. The call out box Contract Provisions on Appeal and Grievance Processes on page 5 of this document provides an example of the type of language that states can add to their SMACs to require compliance with 42 CFR 422.629 through 422.634. States can also review ICRC’s SMAC sample language resource for additional contract language suggestions.

• Flexible appeal and grievance standards. States may implement timeframe or notice standards that are more protective of enrollees than those specified for the integrated appeal and grievance processes under 42 CFR 422.629 – 422.634, as long as those state-specific standards are consistent with federal Medicaid rules. These include, for example, requiring plans to make a decision on an appeal within shorter timeframes than those described in federal regulations. States that use more protective standards must specify their requirements in their SMACs. This flexibility is particularly useful for aligning integrated appeal and grievance standards with existing state Medicaid standards.

• Updates to enrollee notices. The integrated appeal process includes use of a new integrated denial notice as required under 42 CFR 422.631(d). Applicable integrated plans will use this letter beginning in 2021 in place of the Notice of Denial of Medical Coverage (or Payment) (NDMCP) form (CMS-10003). All other MA plans will continue to use the NDMCP. CMS has also developed other model notices that plans may use in other parts of the integrated appeals process. States should ensure that D-SNPs and affiliated Medicaid MCOs use the notices with correct state-specific information.

• Key dates. The integrated appeal and grievance requirements go into effect January 1, 2021. States should begin discussing contract changes with their D-SNPs as soon as possible if they have not already done so. By July 6, 2020, D-SNPs must submit to CMS executed SMACs for each state in which they seek to operate in CY 2021. D-SNPs that are applicable integrated plans will have until November 2, 2020 to submit a SMAC amendment implementing the unified appeals and grievances procedures.

Contract Provisions on Appeal and Grievance Processes

The following sample SMAC language for integrated appeal and grievance processes is designed for states that contract with HIDE SNPs and FIDE SNPs with exclusively aligned enrollment:

Consistent with state policy, the Contractor shall implement an appeal and grievance system and process appeals and grievances in compliance with the terms of 42 CFR §§ 422.629 – 422.634, 438.210, 438.400, and 438.402. This includes:

• Appeals and grievances systems that meet the standards described in §422.629;
• An integrated grievance process that complies with §422.630;
• A process for making integrated organization determinations consistent with §422.631;
• Continuation of benefits while an integrated reconsideration is pending consistent with §422.632;
• A process for making integrated reconsiderations consistent with §422.633; and
• A process for effectuation of decisions consistent with §422.634.

States can review ICRC’s SMAC sample language resource for additional contract suggestions.17

Medicare Part D prescription drug benefits are not included in the integrated grievance and appeals processes.

Enrollees, providers, and approved representatives may submit pre-service requests verbally or in writing. Requests for payment must be in writing unless the plan accepts verbal requests. For more information, see 42 CFR 422.631(b). Available at: https://www.ecfr.gov/cgi-bin/text-idx?SID=552a11f01d59e79e3fef86cea08a97f7&mc=true&node=20190416y1.31

The plan must make a decision on a request when it determines (based on a request from the enrollee or on its own) or the provider indicates (in making the request on the enrollee’s behalf or supporting the enrollee’s request) that taking the time for a standard request could seriously jeopardize the enrollee’s life, physical or mental health, or ability to attain, maintain, or regain maximum function. For more information, see 42 CFR 422.631(c)(3). Available at: https://www.ecfr.gov/cgi-bin/text-idx?SID=552a11f01d59e79e3fef86cea08a97f7&mc=true&node=20190416y1.31

Enrollees, providers, and approved representatives may request an appeal verbally or in writing within 60 days of the plan’s adverse organization determination notice. For more information, see 42 CFR 422.633(d). Available at: https://www.ecfr.gov/cgi-bin/text-idx?SID=552a11f01d59e79e3fef86cea08a97f7&mc=true&node=20190416y1.31

The plan must continue the enrollee’s benefits if: (1) the enrollee files the request for an integrated appeal timely in accordance with 42 CFR 422.633(e); (2) the integrated appeal involves the termination, suspension, or reduction of previously authorized services; (3) the services were ordered by an authorized provider; (4) the period covered by the original authorization has not expired; and (5) the enrollee timely files for continuation of benefits. The enrollee must file for continuation of benefits on or before the later of the following: (1) within 10 calendar days of the plan sending the notice of adverse integrated organization determination; or (2) the intended effective date of the plan’s proposed adverse integrated organization determination. For more information, see 42 CFR 422.632. Available at: https://www.ecfr.gov/cgi-bin/text-idx?SID=552a11f01d59e79e3fef86cea08a97f7&mc=true&node=20190416y1.31
